

Junior Accounts

for savers
up to 16

Do you have children under 16?

Then one of the most useful habits you can teach them is the Savings Habit!

'Saving is a very fine thing. Especially when your parents have done it for you,' Winston Churchill said. But it's also a good idea to encourage children to save for themselves from an early age. Getting them to put money aside regularly, helps them to develop the saving habit and they quickly learn to appreciate the benefits that saving can bring.

Setting up a savings account in your child's name is a good way for them to learn how to manage money and save for the future. And it's a habit that could last them a lifetime.

So what are you waiting for?

Set up an account for your child at your local credit union today because... They're never too young to start saving

BACCU also has collection points based at the following junior schools, so they could start saving there:

- Rosegrove Infants
- Rosewood Primary
- Springfield Primary
- St Augustine's RC Primary
- St John's RC Infants and Juniors
- St Leonard's Primary

All you need, if you join through school, is their birth certificate or passport – so that we can take a copy – and some money!

Don't forget...

To get on in life, people need skills and one of the most important skills they'll need, is knowing how to manage money.
